Maryam Dadkah, 609 Alma St., SE

Our yard is recognized by the Northern Virginia Bird Alliance as a certified wildlife sanctuary, by the National Wildlife Habitat Foundation as a certified wildlife habitat, by the Town of Vienna as an Eco Efficient House, and by the Monarch Watch Program as a certified Monarch waystation. I was also awarded the Town of Vienna volunteer recognition for 2024, and Friends of Trees by the Fairfax County Tree Commission for 2024. I am the administrator of Native Vienna, a group of 700+ people who encourage converting their lawn to native plants, the volunteer coordinator for Plant NOVA Native, a member of the Northern Virginia Bird Alliance advocacy committee, and vice chair of the Garden Club. Along with other volunteers, I am one of the people who, for the last two years, have worked with our state legislators to label invasive plants in nurseries. I also need to add that we do conservation landscaping to help with biodiversity, climate crisis and managing water problems on our property. We are the last house, down the hill before Wolfrap Creek and at the lowest point. We have four 55-gallon rain barrels and we routed our water to a 500-gallon cistern.

We moved to our home, adjacent to Wildwood Park, next to Navy Federal, in the midst of COVID and saved an unprecedented number of deer, as I tried to follow conservation landscaping and convert our land to a homegrown natural park. According to the Town of Vienna zoning code sec. 18-410, fence height should be four feet maximum for corner lots and front yards. Unfortunately, our current zoning code does not consider the overpopulation of deer in the Town. This not only effects the parks but also any resident's efforts to have conservation landscaping. Deer cause invasive plant spread, tick problems and loss of vegetation. Deer can jump over 8 feet but they have poor eyesight. We used this to our advantage and created a 6.5 ft. fence around our property using a see through netting that does not block the site but deer can feel it when touched. They don't jump [because they can't distinguish the height of the fence]. We built our fence leaving taller posts and running the netting in between. I've talked with the Zoning Chair, three CSC members and the Planning Commission. All agree that increased fence height using see through netting should be addressed. Our ask is that in the absence of a deer program, Council consider increased height for deer netting beyond the four feet for corner lots and front yards and include these changes in the zoning code. Thank you.

Avril Garland, 917 Hillcrest Dr.

I would like to support what was just said about deer fencing. Ms. Dadkah has a 4.5 ft. wood fence and the remaining is netting. It looks very nice. The code needs to be changed to allow for this. The other thing I'd like to bring up is [a request] to allow volunteers to use herbicide. I am a volunteer for Habitat Restoration Volunteers. We are allowed to use herbicide. It comes in a 4 oz. no spill bottle. It makes our work as volunteers much more efficient. A safety protocol training is required and it would cost very little to start.
