

Town Business Liaison Committee (TBLC)

Fiscal Year 2024 Annual Report

Introduction

The Town Business Liaison Committee (TBLC) is an advisory body to the Town Council and serves as a bridge between the Town of Vienna's government and its vibrant business community. Established in 1982, the committee aims to foster collaboration, promote economic growth, and support local businesses. Over the years, the TBLC has evolved to better align with the town's needs, as reflected in recent updates to its bylaws and mission.

In the fiscal year 2024 (FY 23-24), from July 1, 2023, to June 30, 2024, the TBLC prioritized community engagement, business recognition, and the advancement of policies to support economic development. This report highlights the committee's accomplishments, ongoing initiatives, and future plans.

Membership and Meetings

The Town Business Liaison Committee (TBLC) is composed of nine dedicated individuals representing a diverse cross-section of Vienna's business community and residents. Members work collaboratively to advance the committee's mission. In FY 23-24, the TBLC was chaired by Jen Morrow, owner of Bards Alley Bookstore, with support from Vice Chair Tim Fricker (July 2023 – Feb 2024) and Tracy McCarty (Feb 2024 – current). This year, the committee welcomed two new members: Najee Davis, a Business Member and owner of Chick-fil-A, and Robert Marsh, a Resident Member. Vice Chair Tim Fricker, owner of Bikes at Vienna, left the committee in April 2024.

The TBLC held ten regular monthly meetings on the second Thursday of each month, except July and August, throughout FY 23-24, maintaining a consistent schedule to address ongoing projects, new initiatives, and collaborations. Highlights from these meetings include discussions on awards programs, the Shine Bright Vienna Holiday Decorating Contest, and updates on the town's economic development initiatives. The committee also reviewed new business licenses monthly, ensuring outreach to new business community members.
