OUTREACH AND ENGAGEMENT SUMMARY

Town of Vienna - Annex Long-Term Use Study

Engagement Strategy

Inform – Putting out information about the site, the constraints, and the process to reach a common and foundational understanding

Consult – Questioning stakeholders about their wants, needs, desires, and curiosities

Collaborate – Two-way engagement with joint learning, decision-making, and partnership to understand unmet needs in the Town / inform the project team

Involve – Two-way engagement that makes the stakeholders and community part of the process, but focuses their responsibilities to a few key asks

Support – Providing tools, skills, and professional expertise to the community so they can express their perspective and have the needed information to understand the decision-making process.

Town of Vienna - Annex Long-Term Use Study

Engagement Summary

Emerging Themes

- Fiscally responsible and strategic decision-making
- Uniquely Vienna & maintaining the “small town” feel
- Vienna as an active community
- A place for all, with tailored activities for some
- Fulfilling a missing or underserved need
- Sustainability, open space, and outdoor programming as core instead of additive
- Create a transparent process

Broad Programming	Addresses a Widely Expressed Missing Need	Higher Community Continuity	Higher Cost Impacts

Next Steps - Feasibility

Next Steps - Options

- Option 1 – Keep the whole building, spending the necessary funds to bring it to compliance.
 - Identify short- and long-term programming with building in place
- Option 2 – Keep part of the building (likely gymnasium), spending the necessary funds to bring it to compliance and a functional state as its own facility
 - Identify short- and long-term programming with part of the building in place
- Option 3 – Demolish the building and consider programming for a “flat site” without a key building
 - Identify short-term programming
- Option 4 – Demolish building and “start fresh”
 - Identify short- and long-term a completely open site to work with
