5. Public Hearings

A.

Public hearing to consider recommended changes from Planning Commission, staff, and Town Council regarding the Definitions section of the Zoning Ordinance, Article 2, Section 18.4

Mayor DiRocco called the Public Hearing to orders at 9:16 p.m. The Town Clerk called the roll and all members of Council were present.

Patrick Mulhern, Director of Planning & Zoning explained that this amendment to the zoning code was forwarded to the Planning Commission a little more than a year ago, 7/11/2016. They did a lot of work with the Planning Commission to get this recommendation to Council. He took the Planning Commission recommendation and added some of the items that Council had wanted in there based upon the items they approved in the MAC and some other items that were not included. He clarified that the Planning Commission changes are in blue and the Council's are in red. Since July of 2016 they have had 15 meetings where some portion of definitions had been discussed. The first item for change is architectural front. They did not have architectural front in the definition section of the ordinance and it was a confusing point and they wanted to clarify that. The language is basically what Council forwarded and the Planning Commission agreed. Mayor DiRocco asked Mr. Mulhern to go through the definitions and then if there are questions Council can ask them.

Mr. Mulhern continued going through each definition. He stated that building height was actually added by the Planning Commission as a result of changes to the finished lot grade definition that they are recommending. Within the maximum vertical dimension measured from the average finished lot grade, the front of the principle building to the highest point of the roof is what they suggested. It will make more sense when they get to the finished lot grade definition. With "dwelling multi-family," Council had suggested taking out apartment house and staff is suggesting that they add "groups of three or more townhouses owned as condominium or offered for rent, may be considered as multi-family dwellings." This provides for the opportunity to have those in an RM2 zone but with townhouse's, because of the definition they adopted within the transportation and parking section, it still requires guest parking. "Finished Lot Grade" currently finished lot grades for the purpose of measuring building height under the chapter, the finished lot grade is a pre-existing lot grade calculated as a mid point between the highest and lowest elevation points along the front set back line. He stated there have been some questions if that is the set back line for the zone or the setback line of the front of the house. In practice it has been the front of the house. The exception is for single family dwellings that basically allows you to deviate up or down by three feet. Councilmember Majdi asked Mr. Mulhern explain briefly what the goal is that they are trying to accomplish with this. Mr. Mulhern stated the objective is to have houses maintain the existing grade, the before built grade. This is mainly for tear downs when you look at the three foot change. The objective was to not have it built up and be a lot higher than the surrounding homes, particularly when the rebuilds are much bigger.

What staff had originally recommended and Council referred to the Planning Commission, they simply looked at making this consistent with the way they actually implement it as a practical matter. A lot grade is a finished surface of ground abutting a building or structure as opposed to a set back. They had said to deviate upwards because that was a concern but he knows there was a concern about changing that so the Planning Commission has a version that dips upward or downward and looking at pre-existing lot grade around the footprint of the single family dwelling. The Planning Commission kind of scrapped all of that and they spent a lot of time on this in going through a lot of iterations of examples and what works and what doesn't. They came up with this recommendation which basically combines A & B so this would be for single family as well as commercial buildings. Finished lot grade means a finished service of ground abutting a building or structure. Finished lot grade may deviate from the pre-existing lot grade by no more than three vertical feet at any one point along the pre-existing lot grade around the foot print of the building or structure. It does have a provision where the Public Works Director may waive the three foot lot deviation requirement if deemed for a good cause and not contrary to a public interest. There has been confusion about "Lot front of" and what was suggested by Council is you give the Zoning Administrator, for reasons of safety or continuity, he could make a decision about changing where the front of the house would face. Generally if you have a corner lot it is a shorter side so there would be an exception made by the Zoning Administrator for continuity or safety reasons. The Planning Commission took out "except where a house is built with it's front entrance on the long side. They didn't think that existing situation should stand unless there was a continuity or safety reason for it to continue with a tear down and re-build.

Some items that were added by Council. There were a couple added during the MAC discussion, one being Multi-Modal transportation impact analysis. Council's version in red means "the study of" and the Planning Commission added, "development- related existing and future conditions of travel demand and supply to include analysis of vehicular, pedestrian and bicycle traffic, transit, and parking in a defined study surrounding the proposed development site." "Public engagement plan" was also discussed during the MAC update and means a plan that establishes the principles, processes and milestones for public engagement related to a development proposal to address the needs of community stakeholder's and to engage people in the decision-making process. "Recycling Station" the Planning Commission had taken out but Council recommended it be added back in. Recycling station means a space or container allocated for collecting and loading of recyclable materials that can physically comply with expected collection of a building's use. Early in the discussions, Council asked that they add "Stoop" which means a small staircase, typically, but not necessarily, constructed of concrete and/or masonry, ending in a platform, and utilized primarily as an access to a building. These were the major changes there were some administrative changes as well.

Councilmember Majdi asked Mr. Mulhern to explain the rationale for the addition in blue on the multi-modal transportation. Mr. Mulhern stated that they wanted to make sure the analysis was strictly related to the development and not off site and not to expansive. It had relevancy to the project in fairness to the applicant.

Mayor DiRocco asked why the Recycling Station was taken out by the Planning Commission. Mr. Mulhern stated yes, that Council had asked that it be added and the Planning Commission recommended taking it out. Mayor DiRocco asked why? Mr. Mulhern stated that they didnt think it should be that specific and give the latitude to the developer.

Councilmember Majdi asked Mr. Mulhern if in his view does the addition of development related restrict the areas that would be part of the study. There is a clause at the end of the definition "in a defined study surrounding the proposed development site." Does the addition of "development related" modify the meaning of that clause in any way. Mr. Mulhern stated that he doesn't think so, he thinks with the changes in the re-zoning laws at the state level, in July, there is really a need to tie the project to whatever requirement, be it an improvement or even a study, and he thought adding that helped to do that.

Councilmember Noble stated that we may have used "development" too many times in this and maybe the last time, right before development site, just simply saying "site" may be appropriate just to clean up and thin out the language.

Councilmember Sienicki asked for some clarification from the Planning Commission's recommendations.

Ms. Patty Hanley, 333 West St. NW stated that she supports a lot of these changes especially with the residential builds.

Councilmember Majdi asked about the change in the definition of multi family dwelling unit and the reason for the change is to clarify how parking requirements apply to mult family dwelling units and was curious if this new definition makes sense to Ms. Hanley. She stated that she does not have a problem with the word "Townhouse" except for legally you have two types of ownership of property, condominium ownership or fee simple and those are clearly defined and in real estate people know what those are. When you start to say "townhouse" "townhouse style," things can get muddled and there is already a townhouse section so it is fine in there or it's fine not in there. Maybe to the developer coming in and thinking they can't do it is not something you want to turn away.

Councilmember Sienicki stated that with the Public Engagement Plan she believes the Planning Commission decided not to recommend and asked if that was because it is already in the MAC. Mr. Mulhern stated that it is in the MAC but the chairman also wrote Council a letter that talked about why they didn't recommend including both recycling station and the public engagement plan. Basically, the gist of it on the public engagement plan is that the only requirement they have is the public advertisement and the public forum that they have so they didnt think it was necessary and they thought the developers would go the extra mile.

It was moved to close the public hearing at 9:36 p.m.

*Motion: Councilmember Noble
Second: Councilmember Sienicki Carried unanimously*

Councilmember Noble stated that he has a concern about the lot height deviation. The way it reads now, where we measure is at the set back lines which is out from the home within the existing generalized lot grade, front to back and side to side. If you then measure the grade from immediately surrounding the foundation of the existing building, then you're at the elevation that the grading is up to the base of the edge of the building, which could be two feet or three feet as it is today with a building built in the 50's or 60's. What they are saying then by changing this, is that we want the builders to be allowed to go three feet up from an elevation that is already graded up towards the edge of the building that's two feet off the ground as opposed to going, if you're at the set back line, up to three feet above the general lot grade of a lot. Given some of the examples he has seen with the current interpretation, he doesn't think that is what we want and has a real problem with what is being proposed here of moving it to the existing footprint of an existing building as opposed to set-back lines. In retrospect he thinks they should be enforcing it as it was originally written and we will end up with buildings that are actually lower in most cases where the lots are generally flat or gradually sloping.

After further discussion it was decided that they still need more discussion on lot grade before approving the definition.

It was moved to approve amendments to the Definitions section of the Zoning Ordinance, Article 2, Section 18.4 with the exception of Finished Lot Grade and it was further moved to direct the Town Clerk to advertise a Notice of Intent to Adopt for Town Councils September 11, 2017 meeting.
